↑ Apostles' Creed

☩: I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died, and was buried;
he descended to the dead.

On the third day he rose again; he ascended into heaven,
he is seated at the right hand of the Father,
and he will come to judge
the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting.
Amen.

Prayers of the Church

☩: ... Lord, in your mercy,

☩: hear our prayer.

Holy Communion – All baptized Christians who seek a taste of the new and forgiven life in Jesus Christ are welcome to receive the sacrament. We confess and believe that Christ in his risen form is truly present in the Sacrament of Bread and Wine and that by sharing in this meal, we share in Christ’s risen presence among us.

The ministration of the Sacrament is given in two ways:

In the pew:

You may commune in the pews with individual elements. These are available in the narthex as you enter.

When invited to commune, peel off the bottom tab to eat the bread; peel off the top tab to drink the wine. The waste can go in the paper bag found in each pew.

By intinction:

When prompted by the ushers, come down the center aisle to kneel at the railing; please sanitize your hands. Receive a wafer in your hands. Dip it in a chalice, either wine or grape juice, before partaking. Use the outside aisle to return to your seat.

If you prefer to receive only bread, be assured that you are receiving the full presence of God.

Postlude

Prelude in G minor
Franz Tunder (1614-1667)

Please note that the postlude may feature the full organ.

Please maintain social distancing as we exit. On your way out, put your bulletin back in the baskets on the table if you do not want to take it with you. Offerings may be put in the offering plate as you exit. You may remain in fellowship with one another as long as you like.

About Today's Music

At the American Guild of Organists National Convention this past July, Dr. Pamela Ruitter-Feenstra opened her concert held here at QALC with one of Franz Tunder's (1614–1667) several organ preludes written in the key of G minor. This inspired me to order Tunder's collected works, and I'll be playing selections throughout the coming months, including today's postlude. Tunder was a North German Lutheran organist and composer who is regarded as an important link from earlier music of the Baroque era to the later Baroque style, which culminated in the works of J.S. Bach. Unfortunately, none of his music was published in his lifetime, and most of his output is lost. What survives is from a personal collection assembled by Gustav Düben (c. 1625–1690), a German-trained Swedish organist and composer who amassed some 2300 music manuscripts representing about 300 composers. The Düben collection languished in obscurity at the Royal Library in Upsala, Sweden, until it was catalogued in the 1880s and Tunder's music was rediscovered.

SUNDAY FORUM TODAY: “SEX IN THE BIBLE”

We hope you can join us for the final session of our three-week forum series, “The Bible We Never Knew” in the Conference Room today, 9-10 AM. We are delighted to welcome Rev. Dr. Sara Koenig of SPU to lead the discussion.

The Bible has an expansive understanding of sex and sexual desire, more nuanced and complicated than often gets conveyed to the larger world. We'll discuss how the Bible views 'good sex', 'bad sex,' and what is in-between. Please come and bring your questions!

Rev. Koenig is ordained in the Presbyterian Church (USA), and wants to live in a world where there is laughter, where kindness is the default, and all people know that they matter and are loved. She is professor of biblical studies at SPU, where she did her undergraduate degree and returned there to teach after getting her M.Div. and Ph.D. at Princeton Theological Seminary. She writes about biblical characters, and how the Bible has been received during the centuries. When she's not teaching or researching, you can find her drinking coffee, reading books for fun, spending time with her teenage kids and husband, or walking her dog. Her most recent article titled “Styling Eve and Adam’s Clothes” was published in June 2022.
